Introducing Lynda.com

Lynda.com provides on-line education opportunities to federal government agencies with software, technology, creative, and business skills training to achieve their personal and professional goals. With a lynda.com subscription, members receive unlimited access to a vast subscription library of high-quality, current, and engaging video tutorials taught by recognized industry experts.

Lynda.com takes part in the Community of Interest (COI) Civilian Marine Foundational Skills Training Program (FSTP). The Marine Corps established the COI program to enhance civilian careers. COIs are aligned by civilian occupational series grouped along functional lines. Every Civilian Marine has a need for certain foundational skills that support the Marine Corps' mission. To develop these skills, COI Leaders have designed the FSTP to provide foundational training opportunities for each Civilian Marine.
